GIRL SCOUTS TO RECEIVE AMER. FLAGS

More than three thousand Girl Scout troops, representing over fifty thousand Girl Scouts in Will, Lake, Kane, DuPage and Cook counties, Ill., and Lake County, Ind., will have the opportunity to obtain American flags needed for their patriotic ceremonies by visiting the Chicago Natural History Museum (formerly Field Museum), and reporting to their troop leaders the natural history subjects they observed there.

The American flags will be donated by Howard T. Greene, of Chicago and Geneseo Depot, Wis., president of Brook Hill Farms and a producer of dietetic milks, who is taking this means of encouraging youth interest in the natural sciences.

Greene announced he would donate the flags when, on the 50th anniversary of his dairy farms, he learned the Girl Scouts in the Chicago region currently were studying natural history and that many of the troops were without American flags.

The flags will be presented to the Girl Scout troops in a colorful and patriotic ceremony to be held in the James Simpson theatre of the Chicago Natural History Museum on Saturday, Dec. 6, according to Col. Clifford C. Gregg, director, who also announced that the Girl Scout troops with their leaders and families will be invited to attend the ceremony.

Plans are now being made by Girl Scout leaders in Mokena and Frankfort to take their troops to the Chicago Natural History Museum and report what they observed among the exhibits devoted to birds, mammals, flowers and insects, according to Mrs. John Marti and Mrs. Stanley Johnson, publicity chairmen for the Girl Scouts of Mokena and Frankfort, respectively.

A card and bunco party will be held at Summit Hill school Friday evening, October 17. All games start at eight o'clock. Refreshments will be served after the games.

Hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. William Schellhase and Mrs. Clarence Lauffer.

William Folkers, 87, native of Frankfort, died Sunday during his sleep in the home of his son, Dr. Clarence Folkers in Blue Island following a long illness.

He was born in Frankfort, February 21, 1865, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson T. Folkers where he spent most of his life. His parents started a butchering business and meat market in Frankfort and after many years was taken over by their three sons, Peter, Frank and William. Their father, in the early days, would go to Chicago to buy cattle by the car load and drive them on foot to their pasture in New Lenox. From there they would take the cattle for butchering according to the supply demand. The refrigeration system of today has changed all that.

After many years in business the Folkers dissolved partnership, William being the last of the firm. He has lived for the past 10 years with his son in Blue Island. His wife, the former Lucille Krapf preceded him in death as well as two daughters.

Surviving beside Dr. Folkers, is another son Harold, in Chicago Heights and a daughter Mrs. Lucille Clark of Marseilles; seven grandchildren and seven great grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon in Blue Island with the Rev. T. Harry Kelly, pastor of the Grace Methodist church officiating. Burial was made in the Pleasant Hill cemetery in Frankfort.

The time of the play, early fall, is very appropriate, as at this time with all the Oaks and Maples around Mokena taking on brilliant colors, everyone is fall-conscious.

Narcotics Officer Addresses PTA At Frankfort Meet

Police Officer Joseph F. Fiedoral, staff member of the Crime Prevention Bureau, spoke at last Friday evening's meeting of the Frankfort PTA. The meeting was very well attended.

Officer Fiedoral urged parents to watch for symptoms and signs of narcotic use and explained how it affects youth. He also exhibited a complete display of instruments, etc. which had been confiscated from those who had been arrested.

The narcotics officer stressed the need of a more stringent law (even up to the death penalty), and urged parents to write their congressmen of the seriousness of the narcotics situation, which is the cause of so much crime and so many accidents, for addicts are practically insane while under influence of the drug. No law, he pointed out, can be too severe for the criminals who are smuggling the drug into America from other countries, and distributing it in our cities and villages.

Salvation Army Renders Valuable Community Service

Many of the Salvation Army units are rendering a service of inestimable value to the communities in which they function. For example, during the month of July and August unwell mothers were received at the Home and Hospital in Chicago from the following counties:

Kane county, 1; Lake County, 2; Will county 4; Lake County, Ind. 5; Cook County, 22; DuPage county, 1.

There is no way of estimating the value of this service. This represents a vital part of the Salvation Army's regional services in this area.

The Salvation Army is sponsoring a conference for the youth of the Metropolitan Area of Chicago, Saturday and Sunday, October 11 and 12. The conference will convene in the Trumbull high school at Foster and Ashland ave.

Each year the Salvation Army throughout the Central Territory (11 Central states) promotes a Speakers Contest for young people from 12 to 25 years of age. Contests are held on the local county level, in four age divisions. Winners are selected to compete in the state contests. Winners of the state contests are then invited to Chicago to participate in the semi-finals and finals. The final contest is scheduled for Saturday, November 15.

WILL CO. GOP MEETS OCT. 16 IN FINAL PUSH

The 1952 Republican campaign will swing into its final drive in Will County when the county's committeemen meet Thursday, Oct. 16 at the American Legion Hall at 7:30 p.m., according to C. H. Peterson, Will County GOP Chairman.

With the election just a little more than three weeks away, the GOP campaign committee is planning an extensive drive for votes that will reach into every home in the county. Peterson pointed out that Will county is considered one of the vital areas in Illinois. "I have no doubt that the county will go Republican," the chairman said. "But we want to make sure it goes overwhelmingly Republican. Those extra votes count. They are the ones that help in overcoming the Democratic machine vote in Cook county."

All forces are combined in this Crusade, the county chairman pointed out. The Young Republicans, the women, the Minute Men for Ike and the Republican War Veterans are all meshing their actions to insure the greatest turn out of voters on Nov. 4 in Will County's history.

Republican Organizations, the Will County Central Committee, the Young Republican Organization, the Veterans' Organization and the Women's groups are sharing headquarters in the old Munroe Building on the southeast corner of Scott and Clinton streets in Joliet. Held Prisoner by Reds, Vogeler Will Tell Dramatic Story

Robert A. Vogeler, the first American businessman to have been the victim of the hideous mockery of Communist "justice," will give in person the dramatic story of "17 Months of Despair" at the LaSalle Hotel in Chicago, Friday, October 24 starting at 8:00 p.m. His appearance is being sponsored by the Illinois Woman's Press Association. Those wishing to attend should contact Mrs. Margaret Semmler for tickets.

Vice president and European representative of the International Telephone and Telegraph Corporation, with a wide background in business and engineering, Mr. Vogeler was arrested in November, 1949, by Communist-dominated Hungarian authorities on charges of "espionage, sabotage and conspiracy against the Hungarian government." He was subjected to extreme psychological and physical pressures, and following a pattern frequently repeated in trials behind the Iron Curtain, he "confessed." He was sentenced to 15 years in prison and kept in solitary confinement.

The arrest and trial of Robert Vogeler aroused the freedom-loving world. The U. S. government protested strongly and took several retaliatory steps when its protests were ignored. On April 28, 1951, 17 months after his arrest, Robert Vogeler walked across the Hungarian border into Austria, a free man.

Robert Vogeler has a story of interest to all Americans. A large audience is expected to hear him at this lecture.

Carolyn Cole Speaks Nuptial Vows With Thomas Skvorc

Floral arrangements of white gladioli and chrysanthemums decorated the altar of St. Jude's Catholic church in New Lenox Saturday afternoon, September 27, for the one o'clock wedding of Carolyn Guilford Cole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Carlton Cole of Park Ridge, and Neal Thomas Skvorc, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milan Skvorc of New Lenox. The Rev. Dennis Hall, OFM, performed the double ring ceremony, during which Mrs. Elaine Griffin, accompanying herself at the organ, sang "On This Day Oh Beautiful Mother" and "Ave Maria."

The bride was escorted to the altar and presented for marriage by her father. The ceremony was attended by members of the two families only.

Her illusion blue satin gown was fashioned with a torso-length fitted bodice and full skirt that reached the floor. A high neckline and long tapered sleeves were fastened with tiny covered buttons. She wore a dainty gold cross suspended on a fine gold chain, the groom's gift to his bride.

Her fingertip veil of illusion net with Chantilly lace border cascaded from a pearl-studded head piece; her flowers were white gladioli and tiny white pom poms, with a white orchid in the center.

Mary Louise Barry was maid of honor. She wore a gown of teal blue taffeta and lace and was fashioned with a fitted bodice and floor length gored skirt. A short jacket of taffeta was matched with a fitted small cap. She carried a bouquet of Talisman roses.

Joseph Balser of Joliet was best man.

Mrs. Cole chose peacock blue brocade taffeta for her daughter's wedding with dusty pink accessories. Her corsage was Pinocchio roses. The groom's mother wore midnight blue lace with white accessories and a corsage of red roses and white pom poms.

A reception was held at eight o'clock at the Lions' Hall in New Lenox, when 250 friends and relatives greeted the happy young couple. Out of town guests were from Winnetka, Glencoe, Wheaton, Joliet, Chicago, Berwyn, Springfield and Washington, D. C.

After a brief wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Skvorc are now residing at their home on Green street in New Lenox.

Dr. J. J. Coady, of Minooka, died Thursday, October 9 in Silver Cross hospital. He was 78 years of age.

Dr. Coady started out in his practice of medicine and surgery in Mokena 45 years ago, using a horse and buggy to make his calls, often hired from the Henry Stellwagon livery in Mokena. Such conveyance was used when he moved to Minooka in 1912. Snowstorms, rain or blazing heat did not stop Dr. Coady when the sick needed his aid.

Dr. Coady was born in Iowa. He studied medicine at the Chicago College of Physicians and Surgeons, from which he graduated in 1907, and began practicing medicine in Mokena. In April 1908 he was united in marriage with Miss Mildred Brinkerhoff in Mokena and in 1912 they moved to Minooka where the Doctor took over the practice of Dr. John Brinkerhoff, an uncle of Mrs. Coady's. When the latter passed away in 1916, Dr. Coady took over the drug store of Dr. Brinkerhoff. In 1936 a fire destroyed Dr. Coady's office and instruments, making a new start necessary in a new location.

He was a member of the Will County and American Medical Associations, and the American Society of Railroad Surgeons. He has been a surgeon for the Rock Island railroad at Minooka and a member of the staffs of both St. Joseph's and Silver Cross hospitals in Joliet. In addition to his medical work, he found time to serve Minooka as its mayor for 16 years.

After these many years of faithful service, Dr. Coady decided it was time to relinquish his place to younger hands, which he did in 1948. It was at that time that Minooka people arranged a surprise picnic in the McKinley forest preserves at Channahon, as a testimonial of their friendship and love for him and his family.

But Dr. Coady could not long stay idle, and within a few months opened an office in Joliet where he continued his practice until ill health overtook him several months ago.

Surviving Dr. Coady are his widow, Mildred; two daughters, Mrs. Marjorie Erickson of Joliet and Charlene, who is an instructor at Lake Forest college; a son, John, who is studying at Loyola university school of dentistry and a sister, Miss Byrde Coady, of Muscatine, Iowa. Three grandchildren also survive him.

Funeral services were held Monday at the Sonntag Funeral home in Joliet with the Rev. Arthur W. Hoffman officiating. Burial was in Elmhurst cemetery.

Cleveland School Site Sold at Auction for $1700

The land on which had been located what is known as the Cleveland school, at the corner of Wolf road and Route 30, which had been advertised for sale, was sold last Saturday afternoon. Mr. Al Hochberger, cashier of the Frankfort State Bank, was in charge of the auction. About 50 people were present among whom were six active bidders. Mr. Frank Jurcak was the highest bidder on this piece of property. He paid $1700 for the half acre of land, which adjoins his farm on the west.

Following this sale the group moved down to the Hinspeter school District 154, about a mile and a half south, where a garage building, wood sheds and other buildings were auctioned off.

The Cleveland school had previously been moved down to the Hinspeter school at the time the two districts consolidated. It was automatically closed when there were less than six pupils in the district attending it. An oil burning furnace has now been installed in the District 154 school.

What Good Is One Vote?

What good will One Vote do?
Well, One Vote had a lot to do with a lot of things in this country! Thomas Jefferson was elected President by One Vote in the electoral college. So was (John) Quincy Adams.
Rutherford B. Hayes was elected President by One Vote. His election was contested, and it was referred to an electoral college. Again he won by One Vote.

The man who cast that deciding vote for President Hayes was a Congressman from Indiana, a lawyer, who was elected to Congress by a margin of just One Vote; and that One Vote was cast by a client of his, who, though desperately ill, insisted upon being taken to the polls.

By just One Vote there came into the nation the states of California, Idaho, Oregon, Texas, and Washington. That's a big chunk of territory and, today, all the millions living in those states are Americans by just One Vote.

Now, you may say that the One Vote situation applies to the past. Well, don't forget that the draft act of World War II passed the House by just One Vote. You can carry this One Vote history on and on.

For example, One More Additional Democratic Vote in each of Ohio's 8,800 precincts in 1944 would have defeated Mr. Taft. In 1948, One More Additional Republican vote in each of the 8,800 precincts would have carried the state for Mr. Dewey instead of Mr. Truman.—Handbook For Americans—Ballot Battalion.

St. Louis, home office of the Wabash, will be one of the principal locales for "shooting" in the movie, but other cities and areas throughout the Wabash system will also be included—from Kansas City and Omaha in the west to Detroit and Buffalo in the east.

Tentatively titled "Once Upon the Wabash," the sound picture will be made in full color, and will feature a professional cast headed by Barry Hopkins, well known character actor. Others in the cast will include Charles Flynn and Mina Kolb, who have been featured in numerous movies.

"Once Upon the Wabash" will portray the history and development of the Wabash Railroad since its start 114 years ago, but will concentrate on the present day activities of the railroad.

The motion picture is scheduled to be completed early in 1953. After that time it will be distributed nationally to traffic clubs, railway groups, service clubs, schools and other similar organizations, as well as being shown on television.

To Lead 1953 Cancer Crusade

Tom H. Hildebrand, an executive of International Harvester company, has accepted the chairmanship of the 1953 Cancer Crusade in Illinois for the American Cancer Society, beginning his second year in this volunteer capacity.

Hildebrand was chairman of the '52 Cancer Crusade, directing and organizing the April drive to raise one million dollars for cancer control in Illinois.

Announcing Hildebrand's acceptance on October 12, Edward Foss Wilson, president of the American Cancer Society, Illinois Division, Inc., pointed out that $25,961.24 had been raised during the '52 Crusade under Hildebrand's leadership; the largest amount of money ever collected by the Division.

The Low-Down From Hickory Grove

With the laws as they are on account they say of preserving purity and saintliness in the conduct of a campaign by a candidate, how is a feller or his sweet little helpmate going to be permitted to do their bit toward getting their choice of candidate elected? That is the question. As it is, if you put up 5 bucks to help with the expenses of electing the man you think is honest and best, and the other guy hears of it, he puts you and your name in the paper, same as if you had just finished robbin' the First National Bank. Now that, I say, is overdoing pretended saintliness and purity—and we get legalized surreptitiousness of action by any outfit low enough to hide by fair means or foul, behind any legal technicality.

If I choose to donate four or five or 10 simoleons to helping our present mayor get in again or to get another guy in instead, why should some uncouth guy print, or say, or whisper—with legal protection—"look-it" folks "look-it" old Josephus, the FBI should be told about the big rascal.

So folks, I conclude as follows. A crook or pickpocket, when he gets into close and tight quarters, wiggles his thumb and says your man went that-a-way. So, you good citizens, get a good night's sleep and then a good breakfast on Nov. 4th—and tell 'em—show 'em you been around.

Yours with the low down,

JO SERRA

Discuss Teen Age Driver Problems

The growing problem of teen age automobile drivers was discussed by mayors, police chiefs and magistrates of southern Cook county suburbs last Wednesday night, October 8, at Ben's cafe, in Thornton. The meeting was the annual sectional panel of the Cook County Traffic Safety Commission. President William N. Erickson of the county board, who instituted the safety commission in 1946, and has remained its president, welcomed the suburban officials, all of whom are active members.

As a solution to the "menace of youth," the staff of the Traffic Safety Commission ran thru the driver sportsmanship program which has been presented in suburban schools by well known sports figures. "This is an appeal to young drivers to observe the rules and courtesies of the road, just as they do the rules in a football game," said President Erickson. "Good sportsmanship means safety on the highway."

Few persons under the age of 20 own their own cars or have the use of them it was pointed out. It is apparent that this age group is far too prominent in the accident record.

Tips on Traffic Safety

By
EDWARD J. BARRETT
Secretary of State

Slow down after dark. Your field of vision is only a small fraction of what it was during daylight hours, and consequently the time which remains for you to meet unexpected situations is vastly less. When you walk into a darkened room you immediately slacken your pace to avoid bumping into furniture; it's much more important to practice the same caution when driving a car.

At this time of the year the daylight hours in each day are rapidly decreasing and it will soon be dusk at one of the most dangerous hours of the day—from 4 to 5 p. m., an hour when traffic is heavy and fatigue is high. Slow down. More than half of 1951's traffic deaths occurred at night.

Don't "overdrive" your headlights. Make sure your speed is such that you can always stop within the distance covered by your headlights' beam. And be sure your headlights are in good condition. The law requires that your headlights throw a beam at least 500 feet. (Section 103, Uniform Act Regulating Traffic.)

A copy of the booklet, "Rules of the Road," containing many traffic safety suggestions, will be sent to you free upon request. Write to EDWARD J. BARRETT, Secretary of State, Springfield, Illinois.

Fertilizing Pastures Stretches Grazing Season, Promotes Good Growth Next Year

Dairy cows get their fill from thick growing, well-fertilized legume-grass pasture mixture.

YOUR beef and dairy cattle can "have their cake and eat it too," so far as feed is concerned, if you fertilize your pastures this fall, reports the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee.

Adding plenty of nutrients to pastures will not only give your cattle extra grazing days this fall, but it will help assure them abundant forage supplies next year, the committee points out. Moreover, you will cut down costly feed bills and shave production costs, too.

The committee suggests these steps for boosting pasture production:

1—Fertilize old permanent legume-grass pastures with a top dressing of nitrogen, phosphate and potash. The plant food will help promote fast regrowth after the summer heat. Such pasture can give good grazing this fall.

2—See that plenty of nutrients are added to old meadows that are to be plowed under for corn next spring.

3—Seed some of your cultivated acreage to winter rye, winter wheat and other special fall crops. These will grow fast and give your cattle good fall grazing. Plant these crops early enough and be sure they have all the nutrients they need at seedling time.

The committee cites these additional benefits from fall fertilization of pastures: 1—You give your land the benefit of more protective cover. 2—You help build supplies of organic matter below the surface. 3—You increase your soil's water-holding capacity. 4—You slow down the march of erosion.

What fertilizer ratio to use may depend on several factors, but generally speaking a top-dressing this fall of a 1-1-1 ratio fertilizer such as 8-8-8 or 10-10-10 will build thicker, higher-yielding stands.

Soil Building Plan Makes 'Middle Class' Land Grow as Much as Top-Yielding Acres

YOU can build soil fertility cheaper than you can buy it in the form of additional land, points out the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee.

By investing $50 to $75 per acre in soil building measures, you can make low-producing "middle class" land the equal of top-yielding soil within a year or two, declares a statement by the committee. Thus you save yourself the expense of buying high-priced land and you double or triple the return per acre.

Accomplishing such results involves several steps. You have to restock the soil's plant nutrient supply so it can feed the crops you grow. You have to make it a better storehouse for moisture. You have to add organic matter and build up the soil's tilth so it is easy to work and so crop roots have plenty of "leg room."

Agronomists recommend these measures for building up the soil:

1—Add lime as needed, according to soil tests.

2—Give the soil a full feed of nutrients. That means heavy applications instead of a "salt shaker" approach. It means using up to 1,000 pounds per acre of fertilizer plowed down before planting, plus at least 150 pounds per acre of a complete fertilizer at seeding time.

3—Condition the soil so it can make maximum use of the fertilizer you add. This can be done by a rotation centered around well-fed deep-rooted legumes and grasses. The legume taproots pry open stiff, tight soil, letting air and water in. Organic matter left by the roots and plowed-under topgrowth, mellow the soil, increases its water-holding capacity and crop-feeding ability.

4—Return roots, leaves, straw and other crop residues to the soil.

How to Double Your Corn Yields Per Acre

Full fertilizer treatments pay off in corn yields like this.

MANY Midwestern farmers are changing their ideas from "salt and pepper" applications of fertilizer to "shovel" or heavier applications, reports the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee.

They realize that crops need a full dinner of plant nutrients, instead of just "seasoning" to make high yields per acre, says the statement.

"Farmers report that they have doubled or tripled their corn yields," the statement continues, "by turning from conventional applications of 100 to 150 pounds per acre of starter fertilizer to 500 to 600 pounds of a complete fertilizer plowed down before planting, followed by 150 pounds per acre in the hill."

In one Missouri test, 25-bushel corn land produced 124 bushels per acre when 1,100 pounds of nitrogen, phosphate and potash fertilizer was plowed down before planting and a starter fertilizer was added at planting time.

"Missouri agronomists report that full fertilizer treatments are the most profitable," says the statement. "They have demonstrated that the kind or type of soil is less important than the management methods used. When poor Ozark soils were fed a full fertilizer treatment, they yielded within 8 bushels per acre of the top production from the best corn land in that state."

What's true of fertilizing corn is true of other crops, the committee says.

In Wisconsin, the use of 700 to 1,000 pounds per acre of 0-20-20, 0-9-27 or 0-10-30 fertilizer, has boosted alfalfa yields 2 to 2½ tons per acre. The full-fertilized fields have produced ample forage and high quality hay even in dry years."

In many instances, the heaviest fertilizer applications are the most economical, the statement points out. "Increased amounts of plant food," it says, "return the biggest profits."

Dairy Farmers Economic Problems

Dairy farms are the first line of the nation's defense. With government authorities asking for greater production as costs keep rising, dairy farms face a serious economic "squeeze." In the interest of national welfare the spotlight of public attention should be turned on the economic problems of the milk producer.

"Dairy farmers operate on a small margin always," says Owen Richards, general manager of the American Dairy Association, "and milk production involves great risk and large investment. It involves greater hazards than most other businesses. Dairying faces the ordinary economic risks and uncertainties of the market and it is also subject to the natural calamities of drought, hail, floods, or disastrous snows. Come drought or high water cows must be milked daily and the milk marketed. The milk factory can't be switched off like an industrial plant or the fresh milk put in storage warehouses."

"Costs of milk production have increased but the price of milk to the consumer is less than the 'all foods' averages. The price of labor has gone up. Expensive new machinery must be purchased if the milk supply is to be increased. The milk farmer is stretching the ends of his rope to make them meet. "As costs of milk production have kept going up many farmers have sold cows or turned to beef raising which requires less care. Farmers are paying up to $325 for average milk cows, and more for mixed dairy feed. If milk prices had increased as much as wages in most sections milk would cost a lot more per quart.

"Milk is vital to the national defense, health, wealth and security. If the dairy farmer is to be kept in business, his increased costs must be balanced by increased returns, just as in any other business. And if the nation needs an increased milk supply serious attention must be given to the economic situation of the dairy farmer."

Sincerity

Lesson for October 19, 1952

SOME say an insincere person isn't what he seems to be. That is not quite true. An insincere person is what he seems to be, only not all the way through. He is what he seems to be, on Sundays, or part of the time, or when he's feeling just right; or perhaps he is what he seems to be, but only on the surface. The rest of the time, or underneath that surface, he is something quite different. Everybody likes sincere people, nobody wants to have much to do with the insincere.

Getting Down to Cases

Jesus, of course, demanded sincerity. "Jesus would rather be denied by a true man than confessed by a liar." He did not use the word "sincere" or "sincerity," but (as was his habit) he came down to cases. He first shows that a generous giver, and a praying man, may be insincere. When is generosity sincere? When is a man all-the-way generous and when is he only top-layer generous? Jesus suggests that it isn't what we give, but why we give, that points up a test for sincerity. It is very doubtful whether Jesus meant to say that any one ever hired a trumpeter to toot for him when he dropped some money into the collection plate or wrote a check for the Red Cross. What he means to say is that when a man gives with the hope that his gift will attract attention and produce applause, he is not really generous. He doesn't have the recipient's interests at heart; he is thinking only, "How well people will think of me!" Or again, that odd saying, "Do not let your left hand know what your right hand is doing" suggests that sometimes you are generous in order to please your favorite audience: You. You are generous in order to feel self-satisfied, your right hand (so to speak) brags about your left. The sincerely generous person is the only truly generous one; and the only sincerely generous person is the one who wants to give, not to be complimented, even by himself.

What Is Sincere Prayer?

Another concrete case that Jesus takes up is prayer. There is a story that once a minister was told after service: "Doctor, that was the most eloquent prayer ever delivered to a Boston audience." Jesus would say that a prayer delivered to an audience—Boston, Bombay or Barber Junction, no matter where—isn't a prayer, it's just a way of showing off. A certain professor of English used to quote famous authors in his public prayers: "As Shakespeare has said, O Lord . . . Thou rememberest what the poet Browning hath said . . ." Now there's no use quoting poetry to the Lord; that is suited to a speech, not to a prayer. Of course Jesus did not mean that we are never to pray in the presence of others. He himself prayed in public on various occasions. Leading others in prayer is a rare gift and should be cultivated. But while prayer, sincere prayer, can be with others and for others, it should never be to others. Some preachers "beat the congregation over their heads with a prayer" as the saying is. Some deacons have been known to put long and dull prayer-meeting talks into the form of a prayer. One elder well-versed in Scripture used to go through the whole story of the Bible, in outline, every time he was called on for a prayer.

Sincerity in Devotion

Jesus points out where sincerity is most important of all: in our devotion to God. We cannot serve God and Mammon. God does not want part-time devotion. By serving God, Jesus means living by God's side, under God's orders. Serving Mammon means more than simply serving money—destiny Mammon-worshippers would deny that they "serve" money. It means living your life not as God would have you but in order to "get ahead," to make money, to stand well with people who have money. Serving God means living as Jesus lived, for others; serving Mammon means trying to be served by as many persons as possible. Success, in Mammon's terms, is measured in terms of how many people work for you; success in God's terms, is measured in terms of how much you have helped others. Sincere devotion to God must be devotion all life through.

NELSON WATER BOWL

This sturdy, dependable electrical livestock waterer completely eliminates the time-consuming, back-breaking job of hauling water for thirsty animals and cleaning messy troughs. In both summer and winter it provides a constant supply of clean, fresh water that promotes greater meat and milk production... safeguards livestock health.

Saves } TIME
MONEY

Safety catch on housing prevents animals from raising grate or disturbing floating pan.
Four lugs inside housing provide means for securely fastening unit to cement platform with bolts or lag screws.

Built for trouble-free operation—NO floats, NO levers, NO springs—nothing to stick because of corrosion.

The water supply is fed to the bowl by means of a metal covered flexline. This permits easy emptying of bowl which is hinged to the housing. Installation is easy to make because the flexline and hinged bowl make it possible to work inside the housing with the hands. During winter months, the immersion-type 150-watt heating unit heats only a bowlful instead of a tankful of water—thus making winter water warming economical as well as profitable.

Visit your nearest Public Service Store or your local dealer to see and obtain additional information on this new year 'round livestock waterer.

DEARBORN-WOOD BROS. CORN PICKER

Works Equally Well in Everything from Heavy Yielding Hybrids to Pop Corn

It doesn't matter what kind of corn you get into with this picker—little ears, big ears, ears low or high on the stalk, ears and husks that hang tight or loose, or hybrids, open pollinated, or pop corn. The Dearborn-Wood Bros. Corn Picker works well on all of them. Furthermore, it is not necessary to be forever fussing with various adjustments to meet slight changes in crop or field conditions.

These features are important to farmers. They are even more important, perhaps, to custom operators or to farmers who do custom work.

Under The Cross Of Malta

During the past few weeks the entire exterior of our VFW home has been repainted, by several Post members, which indicates their real interest in our Post. Next Friday evening, October 17, all members who can or anyone else interested are to report to repaint and decorate the ball room. A new ceiling and lighting effect is now being installed in the club room. This project is nearly completed and will be a worth while improvement.

At the last regular meeting Commander Moss appointed a committee to make plans and execute them for our annual Hallowe'en party for all the school children of the Mokena schools. The children are cordially invited to be at the VFW Home Hallowe'en eve, Oct. 31 at 7:30 p.m.

Just to remind you, plans for the VFW Drum and Bugle corps Masquerade Ball Saturday evening, November 1 are completed and this affair promises to be a gala event.

The next Post meeting will be Thursday, Oct. 23, 8 p.m. This will be an open meeting. Eats, games etc. The first of the series of games sponsored by the Post will be on November 7. Further details of the above mentioned events will be advertised in The News-Bulletin in the near future.

Amvets Dance Is Big Success

The 2nd annual dance given by the Amvets Five Point Post 183, held at Saenger ballroom in Tinley Park last Saturday night, was even a greater success than had been anticipated. The 1952 Nash Rambler went to Joseph Burza, 1741 W. 38th street, Chicago. Judges were Andrew Zink, commander of the Post, Ervin Yunker, of Orland Park, William Smith, a member of Jim Barclay's orchestra, who furnished the music, and Mrs. Ramon Westlund.

The Amvets announced a substantial profit on the proceeds, a portion of which will be used for service work for hospitalized veterans. They wish to announce that the patronage of local citizens and business men is deeply appreciated, as the success of their Post in this undertaking would have been impossible without it.

TRUCK UPSETS, FIVE N. LENOX BOYS INJURED

Five New Lenox youths were injured, one seriously, at about 2:30 last Sunday morning when the panel truck in which they were riding turned over on North Cedar road in New Lenox.
